

Captured

Chris Tomlin

I heard your echo in the canyon
Upon the timberline
You said these mountains were Your invention
And so was this heart of mine I heard You whisper on the water
There on the mighty sea
You spoke of love deep as the ocean
When You spoke of Your love for me And I am loved by the Father
And I am loved by the Son
And it is love that has captured
The heart of this wayward one I heard Your laughter in the sunrise
Amidst the morning birds
A song of freedom for all creation
And you sang me every word And I am loved by the Father
And I am loved by the Son
And it is love that has captured
The heart of this wayward one I heard You singing in the silence
A simple melody
Words of love, oh I can hear it
My Father is very fond of me And I am loved by the Father
And I am loved by the Son
And it is love that has captured
The heart of this wayward one And I am loved by the Father
And I am loved by the Son, yeah
And it is love that has captured
The heart of this grateful one
The heart of this grateful one

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>