Heavy Duty

Sinner

Time to forget, felt like a wreck
I know, I felt a bad pain in my neck
The hard days, the rough nights
I saw your face, a slam at first sightWhat was the deal and it don't makes a difference
When lightning strikes I'll lost the innocence
Who's to blame, who's pride
'Till the heavy tide, I will standing at your sideHear me calling
And your friends don't know
Hear me calling
Oh, your mama don't knowHere it comes and here it goes
When I thought that nothings seem to glow
Here's the kiss, that's what I miss
But slow, I really need to knowWhat was the deal and it don't makes a difference
When lightning strikes, there can't be a distance
I go low, sinking slow
If somebody cares he really needs a low blowHear me calling
And your friends don't know
Hear me calling
Oh, your mama don't know, your mama don't knowHear me calling
And your friends don't know
Hear me calling
And your mama don't knowHear me calling
And your friends don't know
Hear me calling
And your mama don't know, your mama don't know

Songwriters
SINNER, MAT/WOLTER, HENRIKPublished by Lyrics Â© Warner/Chappell Music, Inc.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/