Golden State

Joywave

I watched the sun come up over LAX
I watched the hills ???? east through the plains of Texas
I cleansed myself
And wiped my memory

????????
I saw the desert sky in the pouring rain
So I washed myself
And wished you do the same

Oh I'm not gonna turn around and tell you "Oh, now I miss you, hey"
And you're never get that postcard home from the golden game

I watched the ???? stand up to the Rio Grande
I watched myself rise up from beneath the sand and I knew
That I was here to, stay

Maybe my head
Is clouding up my brain
But I think its for the best
For you to be on your way

Cause I'm not gonna turn around and tell you "Oh, now I miss you, hey"
And you're never get that postcard home from the golden game
Oh I'm never gonna lie and say without you here, it's just not the same
Cause a love that's been built on skin and bone was meant to fade
Meant to fade

Oh I'm not gonna turn around and tell you "Oh, now I miss you, hey"
And you're never get that postcard home from the golden game
Oh I'm never gonna lie and say without you here, it's just not the same
Cause a love that's been built on skin and bone was meant to fade
