Looking Back (feat. Anna Wise)

CunninLynguists

[Verse 1]
You pretend to be dying to get a part of my mind
Ive been once inclined to tell you part of my spine
Part of my shine comes from the distance you are from the star
While you compiling your wishlist is this business emotionally invested
Or built from the sweat off our flesh pressed against it
Love is a war, sex is a weapon, the mind is a mine so watch where youre stepping
Thoughts that are kept in wet dreams covered in face cream
Come to fruition in positions used to make steam
Feelings are just filling in this half-baked scene
To make X-rated into NC-17
Then see everything she got, she not shy
Our love below so dro we most high
Then wears off then what we wears on Again I turn away when what we share is gone
So
[Interlude]
If is not the hardest part
I will die before it gets too deep
If passion dies within me
Ill? leave me be, baby
[Chorus]
Loving aint easy when youre running scared
Couldve been fearless and unprepared
Loving aint easy when youre running scared
Couldve been fearless and unprepared
Looking back
[Verse 2]
Under the twilight we living the Miller high life
La petite mort my lady, we gotta die twice
I wont surrender and you wont surrender yearn
Whatever happens after this moments of no concern
Cause its hard to stop the burn being fuelled by the friction
Increased heart rate only confuse my addiction
We one half of desire, dangers to ourselves
Flying under the radar in our hangars with the?
My muse, sleep? in time
I go to huff a credit though I need to decline
Its easy to cross a line and blame your flesh for the crime

Im sorry its just the way we designed my dear
We should leave here talking about one at a time though
Cause you got me changing my mind slow
Says that voice in the back of my spine
As I awaken let the moment rewind
[Chorus]
Loving aint easy when youre running scared
Couldve been fearless and unprepared
Loving aint easy when youre running scared
Couldve been fearless and unprepared
Looking back
