Stainless

Born from Pain

I'm a man that walks all alone
In this godforsaken world
Played this life too much as a game
Never turned it to reverse Never got what I really wanted or needed to do what's right but what's true is me to myself and my thoughts in the dead of the nightLook inside this heart It's the rules of the game
And if this is what it takes I'll take the pain...Look inside my heart
It's a heart without shame
It's been put to the test and remains stainlessStainless like steel
