

Birds of Prey

Anberlin

Stuttering machine
Iron moving fast
You wanna go back in time
Try to change the past
Answers in the math
Science on your side
What's the worst that could happen
When two worlds collide
And it all is the same
And it all is the same
Memories circle like birds of prey
Waiting for the right mind to drive insane
Don't look back there's nothing to see
Regret is nothing more than a lovers disease
And it all is the same
'Cause it all is the same
Why even play those games
What's the point to entertain
All the best mistakes
Will always have last names
And it all is the same
Yes it all is the same
Memories circle like birds of prey
Waiting for the right mind to drive insane
Don't look back there's nothing to see
Regret is nothing more than a reoccurring disease
I just think of places
Your thoughts that dance on stage
Curtains they are closing
On a role you can't sustain
And it all looks the same
And it all looks the same
Memories circle like birds of prey
Waiting for the right mind to drive insane
Don't look back there's nothing to see
Regret is nothing more than, than a disease
'Cause it all looks the same
Hold on to the light
(And it all looks the same)
Let go of the dark
Hold on to the light
(And it all looks the same)
Let go of the dark
