Frozen Space

Mandragora Scream

Empty in this space
Its snowin life in my senses. . .
Dream-maker ! Fallin this grace
only silence reigns.Until your gaze,
like a rail brims my heart
enlaced in this ivory reign, nothin! Will collapse in vain.Souls are meltin now inside, and. . .
take my life and bring me away, then !Lookin from my fate
tremblin flare of unrest. . .
Im bleedin cause I saw on this earth
Falls, and star-set rain.Rise! Hushin this frozen-space, darkness of this unlife, again we can try to fly. . .
Lovin ivy never sere, blindin dreams of life
end whenever we are here, well live againLastin dark age, risin, cravin, whilom time
recallin a revenant through rest. . .
In my darkest rave.Inside my hands,
only shade melts away, my hell is made of blindin dreams. . .of eternity. . .How many stars are there in the universe ?
So many ! More than you could ever count !
Is there music in space ?
No theres only silence.
But silence is music !
Yes, if you know how to listen.
Are there other people in the universe ?
Thats a good question. What do you think ?
I dont know !
The universe is bigger than anything, so if its just us,
It seems like an awful waste of space !Rise! Hushin this frozen-space, darkness of this unlife. . .
again we can try to fly. . .
Lovin ivy never sere, blindin dreams of life
and whenever we are here, well live. . .. . . .Again. . . . .
