The Cursed

Nowherebound

The Cursed

Just finished off my last cigarette Still got a long, long way to go
And the burden of all my regrets Left on stage at last nightâ€™s show
Try to put out the fire thatâ€™s been burninâ€™ in my head Another consequence suffered for drinkinâ€™ with the dead
The hangover and hunger, they remind me of my sins
But I damn well know tomorrow, Iâ€™ll be doinâ€™ it againâ€¦

Weâ€™re all scarred, but not broken Raise our fists up to the sky and let our souls sing out For the cursed, and the hopeless
Tonight belongs to us until they shut us down again

Swervinâ€™ down the road less traveled
I might look lost but I got friends
And all my heartstrings unravel as the noose tightens againâ€¦ livinâ€™ life through tinted windows and Iâ€™m thinkinâ€™ bout my friends while my family turn to strangers on the road that never ends so fill my empty cup from the fountain of youth yell out another song while the strings sing outta tuneâ€¦

Lyrics Submitted by Charles Everson Crowe

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/