

Bright Light Girl

Heart

I knew a woman
Never knew no one like her
She said, "The world's made up of angels
Beautiful and fair" She would give you anything
Just give it all away
Just for one true moment
Believing love would stay You're a bright light girl
Shine into this world
Now you know your love is coming true You're a bright light girl
In a disbelieving world
Now someone believes as much as you
And now you know he really loves you too She opened up for trouble
And saw him come on strong
But when he could not meet her eyes
She thought she'd done it wrong Each time love abused her
She would take the shame
Each time love would lose her
She would take the blame No, you're a bright light girl
Shine into this world
Now you know your love is coming true Bright light girl
In a disbelieving world
Now someone believes as much as you
And now you know he really loved you too You never lost your magic vision
Always in your sight
Special intuition
Telling you, it's gonna be alright Oh, yeah, you're a bright light girl
Shine into this world
Now you know your love is coming true You're a bright light girl
In a disbelieving world
Now someone believes as much as you
And now somebody really loves you too Come on, shine on Shine on girl
