

Evening Star

Cannons

We will sail on forever
On to the land of the evening star
    Into the endless we ride
    Unveil the darkness behind
    Abandoned glory hidden, castaway we ride
    Now will the sky surrender
    Forever through the never
A silent whisper echoes through my restless heart tonight
    I will see the glory rise
    We'll be one tonight
    Don't you shut your eyes in silence
    Tonight gather near, come and live your fear
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire
    You live for the right to be free
    We will sail on forever
    On to the land of the evening star
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire
    The land of the evening star
    Now and forever after
    Asylums filled with laughter
Suspicion haunts my dreams and echo through my mind
    This starlit gaze reminds me
    Are you so blind you can't see?
The winds of change my friend will blow for you in the dead night
    I will see glory rise
    We'll be one tonight
    Don't you shut your eyes in silence
    Tonight gather near, come and live your fear
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire
    You live for the right to be free
    We will sail on forever
    On to the land of the evening star
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire
    The land of the evening star
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire
    You live for the right to be free
    We will sail on forever
    On to the land of the evening star
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire

The land of the evening star
