

Weary Eyes (Instrumental)

Stick Figure

It feels like yesterday
The day you up and went away
Won't let you control my fate
Everything is ment to be
Good things are on their way
I can't only wait and see Never let your fate control you
And it feels good
Everything is going in the way it should
Sometimes we all feel misunderstood
And that's ok
Because I knew we could
Never could get back together
And a wise man knows
Nothing lasts forever
Let the truth unfold
And we're better off together
And the cold wind blows
It just the way life goes I don't mind the rain sometimes
Let the sky cry away
And wipe your dreary eyes
And put the cards on the table Up in to the hills we go
I wanna fly high away Never let your fate control you
And it feels good
Everything is going in the way it should
Sometimes we all feel misunderstood
And that's ok
Because I knew we could
Never could get back together
And a wise man knows
Nothing lasts forever
Let the truth unfold
And we're better off together
And the cold wind blows
It just the way life goes Smoke a rose from the fire
And the water put out that flame
I'm so damn high and I still I feel no shame
I'm a rock in the island and I don't feel nothing
And when one door opens another closes

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>