

A Will

Sorority Noise

With you I leave my teeth
They never meant me much
I'd leave you my whole heart
If there was one left to leave

Leave

Everything that I love
And all that I held dear
Has disappeared

My time is now I fear

My time is now I fear

I'm leaving you my name

Because soon it will fade

And I pray for someone to remember me

Remember me each day

I open up my jaw

I rip apart my skin

I don't know where to begin

But I know

Where it ends

Where it ends

I'm leaving you my breath

That's all that I've got left

I'll give it all to take it back from you again

Again

I'm leaving you my name

Because soon it will fade

And I pray for someone to remember me each day
