

Family Feud

Pistol Annies

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Fine china stacked by the kitchen sink
Aunt Tammy's in there claiming all the diamond rings
Uncle Bobby's holding up the TV set
The only thing they are grieving over
Is what they ain't gonna get
She's only been in the ground a day or two
I'm glad Mama ain't around to watch this family feud
Great gran daddy's shotgun started it all
She wasn't even cold
Before they ripped it off the wall
Wanda's fighting Angie over antique quilts
Nobody even waited for the reading of the will
If Daddy was here he'd beat us black and blue
I'm glad mama ain't around to watch this family feud
I'm watching it all go down in shame
Wish the whole house would go up in flames
Who gives a damn about a cedar chest?
When we just laid her soul to rest
She's only been in the ground a day or two
I'm glad Mama ain't around to watch this family feud
She's probably rolling over in her grave
'Cause the good lord give'th and the family take'th away

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>