Cost Of Love

Cosima De Vito

The cost of love can be a broken heart
The cost of love can rip your world apart
It can tear you up till you're down
Spit you out, bleed you dry
Yeah, the cost of love can have a painful price
The cost of loveBut the cost of being alone is being lonely
Getting over love from nobody
Living no life at all
And the cost of being alone is feeling empty
When you got no love, you got nothing
Better to pay the cost of loveThe cost of love can purge you nights of sleep
The cost of love can cause you pain so deep
It can wear you out, wear you down
Mix you up, mess up your mind, yeah, yeah
Yeah, the cost of love can cost so much sometimesBut the cost of being alone is being lonely
Getting over love from nobody
Living no life at all
And the cost of being alone is feeling empty
When you got no love, you got nothing
Better to pay the cost of love'Cause love can be so good sometimes
But you will never know
If you don't let love inside
Don't hide your heart away
You'll be sorry someday, yeah, yeahBut the cost of being alone is being lonely
Getting over love from nobody
Living no life at all
And the cost of being alone is feeling empty
When you got no love, you got nothing
Better to pay the cost of loveThe cost of being alone is being lonely
Getting over love from nobody
Living no life at all
And the cost of being alone is feeling empty
When you got no love, you got nothing
Better to pay the cost of love
