Don't Lose Your Temper

Don't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
'Cause I love you when you're wildDon't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
'Cause I'd hate you to grow mildSince you took that job
With a company
You've changed so much
You just won't recognize meThey have you dressed up
Like a secretary
You mustn't change the things
That make you what you areDon't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
'Cause I love you when you're wildDon't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
'Cause I'd hate you to grow mildSince you've been listening
To that linguaphone
You're speaking in a voice
That's not your ownI'm not sure if it's you
When I call home
You mustn't change the things
That make you what you areDon't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
'Cause I love you when you're wildDon't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
'Cause I'd hate you to grow mildWhatever happened to my fighting
Biting, lightning lioness?
Little girl, little girl, little girl, little girlI think I preferred it
When your hair was in a mess
Brittle girl, brittle girl
They're not your real curlsDon't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
'Cause I love you when you're wildDon't lose your temper

Don't lose your temper
Don't lose your temper
'Cause I'd hate you to grow mildDon't lose it, don't lose it
Don't lose it, don't lose it
Don't lose it, don't lose itDon't lose it, don't lose it
Don't lose it, don't lose it
