Henry

Thomas Dybdahl

Slow down Henry, imagine for a while
That this life is all that you have
Clean out your office and pack up all your bags
I don't think that she'll understand
That your love is here with this band

Sing out Henry, the world is in your voice
It might not be far from the truth
You might not make it, you know how hard it is
But oh how you'll make the world shine
With just one song at a time

Slow down Henry, imagine for a while
That this life is all that you have
Clean out your office and pack up all your bags
I don't think that she'll understand
That your love is here with this band
