

Bushfire

Midnight Oil

In my shoes, in my shoes
There is so much to remind me
As the stars come out above me, home
    Cool wind, clear my head
    Bright sun grow my food
    Strong rain clear my heart
    Fill my land it's a new day
    I don't know why it is sold
    Don't know why it's so cold
    In this life that we live
    New day, new day, new day
    In my shoes, in my shoes
    There is so much to astound me
    As the whirlpool spins around me, home

    Bushfire, burn and grow
    Sunset watch and rest low
    Long night holding child close
        Feed my dream
        It's a new day
    I don't know why it is sold
    Don't know why it's so cold
    In this life that we live
    New day, new day, new day
        It's larger than life
        Darker than death
        We're gonna move
        Those mountains aside
        Here come the messages
