

You Never Know

Mario Winans

Why do things seem so different to me?
I remember how it used to be
A hug and a kiss would happen every day
But now it seems that everything has changed
Tell me, what if I was here no more?
If you looked around and I was gone
Don't waste the time we have right here
Hold me closer to your heart, my dear
You never know what the day may bring
You never know what could happen to me
You never know when my time is up
You never know, oh, you never know
I never thought you will turn away
From me right now when I need you to stay
I can't resist hoping you will be there
Right by my side no matter when or where
Tell me, what if I was here no more?
If you looked around and I was gone
Don't waste the time we have right here
Hold me closer to your heart, my dear
You never know what the day may bring
You never know what could happen to me
You never know when my time is up
You never know, oh, you never know
You never know what the day may bring
You never know what could happen to me
You never know when my time is up
You never know, oh, you never know
What if I was here no more?
If you looked around and I was gone
Don't waste the time we have right here
Hold me closer to your heart, my dear
You never know what the day may bring
You never know what could happen to me
You never know when my time is up
You never know, oh, you never know
You never know what the day may bring
You never know what could happen to me
You never know when my time is up
You never know
