Oh, Marion

Paul Simon

The boy's got brains
He just don't use 'em that's all
The boy's got brains
He just refuse to use 'em an' that's all
He says,"The more I get to thinkin'
The less I tend to laugh"
The boy's got brains
He just abstainsThe boy's got a heart
But it beats on his opposite side
It's a strange phenomenon
The laws of nature defied
He said,"Its a chance I had to take
So I shifted my heart for its safety sake"
The boy's got a heart
But it beats on his oppositeOh, Marion
I think I'm in trouble here
I should have believed you
When I heard you saying it
The only time
(Ooo)
That love is an easy game
(Ooo)
Is when two other people
(Ooo)
Are playing itThe boy's got a voice
But the voice is his natural disguise
Yes the boy has got a voice
But his words don't connect to his eyes
He says,"I'm but when I sing
I can hear the truth auditioning"
The boy's got a voice
But the voice is his natural

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/