what Is Truth

moonlight awakening

so you say that she has died today i wish i could say i care in any way why is it so alarming to believe that even with death you won't infect meit's overwhelming don't you see to realise all she couldn't be but even when she had a chance it disappeared so cold and fast i know it's something hard for you when there is nothing you can do and you'd expect i'd feel the same, you'd expect i feel ashamedthis is how i am, i don't care for you anymore this is what i've become, there is no way you'll understand there is no truth, there is nothing, there is no truth there are only lies there is no truth, this is everything, there is no truth there is only mineit's overwhelming don't you see to realise all you couldn't be you put your thoughts in what has passed to find a strength that cannot last
i know it's something hard for you when there is nothing you can do and you'd expect i'd feel the same but i will never feel ashamed...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/