Confess

Levellers

My friend, well he walked me down these roads i'd never know
The salvation of my soul, myself the only goal
There were pleasures i thought i'd seen and some i never knew There were people dressed in rainments of an in certain HUE And the chances i thought i'd had many i missed
There were devils bearing gifts and angels on the piss.For my sins i will confess and i will never lie
There's nobody that was ever here
that's never wondered why
And i'v lived my life the best, every second to defy
Will nobody that was ever here grieve me when i dieOn the first day i met myself, coming back from the third I believed in what i was doing, i swallowed every word Every word that i was told by the Great and the Good I bit the poisened apple, 'cause i felt that i should.For my sins i will confess and i will never lie
There's nobody that was ever here
that's never wondered why
And i'v lived my life the best, every second to defy
Will nobody that was ever here grieve me when i dieNow that i come to it, i can't recall what it was i achieved, just before my fall I saw visions of uglyness, i visted shame
But i know should i come to it i'd do it all again.For my sins i will confess and i will never lie There's nobody that was ever here
that's never wondered why
And i'v lived my life the best, every second to defy
Will nobody that was ever here grieve me when i dieAnd i'v lived my life the best, every second to defy Will nobody that was ever here
grieve me when i die when i die ..Will nobody that was ever here
grieve me when i die ..
