

You'll Get Yours

Dios Malos

Should have trusted my own feelings
But I silenced intuition
When you sacrificed your honesty
I believed that you would be there To protect me and help me with all I'm going through
There's a joy to being free
That you could have taken from me
But I found the strength to walk away If you turn the pages and you look inside
There is nothing of me I feel that I have to hide
If you turn the tables and look at yourself
Is there something you fear that you would have to confess? Many things will come to pass
I can live with that
I can't help but wonder
When you'll get yours I'm so happy I have moved on
I heard you are regretful
But you sacrificed your dignity
With the power you have abused You disgust me and trust me
I'm not the only one
Haven't I already proved
That I'm better off without you
I'm so glad I walked away If you turn the pages and you look inside
There is nothing of me I feel that I have to hide
If you turn the tables and look at yourself
Is there something you fear that you would have to confess? Many things will come to pass
I can live with that
I can't help but wonder when For all the lies and your manipulation
For all the times I never felt good enough
You pushed me round and put me down
To satisfy your childish ego For all the times you made me feel worthless
The power struggles now I couldn't care less
It's after you, there's nothing you can do
What goes round comes round If you turn the pages and you look inside
There is nothing of me I feel that I have to hide
If you turn the tables and look at yourself
Is there something you fear that you would have to confess? Many things will come to pass
I can live with that
I can't help but wonder
When you'll get yours
