Useless

Cavo

Open your eyes to a brighter way of dreaming
Relax the moments are kept locked inside
Hold me now as day turns into evening
Here comes the nightAll their words and all their lies
I need to find a safer place to hideAnd it feels useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as youYours are the smiles that make this world worth keeping
Only the ones we remember fade in timeAll their words and all their lies
I need to find a safer place to hideAnd it feels useless
And it feels, oh, it feels brand new
And it feels, my God it feels so useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as youAll their words and all their lies
I need to find safer places to hideAnd it feels useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as youAnd it feels useless
And it feels, oh, it feels brand new
And it feels, my God it feels so useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you
You, you
