The Family Ghost

King Diamond

The darkness came closer to home, on the following night
And Miriam slept like a rock, when Jonathan's face went white
The bedroom was ice cold, but the fire was burning still
The blinding light, the family ghost, had risen again, the GhostDon't be scared, don't be scared now, my friend
I am Count De Lafey

Let me take you to the crypt down below, where Abigail rests

Let Miriam sleep, she never would understand

Now come let us go, it's time to knowBeware of the slippery stairs, you could easily fall and break your neck

Hand me that torch, and I will lead the way to the secret in the dark

Secret in the dark

Take a look into the vault, the vault, the sarcophagus of a child Abigail has been in here for years and years, stillborn Born, born, bornThe spirit of Abigail is inside your wife And there's only one way you can stop, the rebirth of evil itself You must take her life, now, now, now, now, now, now
