

Shades Of Blue

Nick Lachey

Looks like another day is slipping through my window shade
And chasing the dark away sneaking into my room again
Are you a sad and lonely thief come to steal my peace of mind?
The only peace I find is pretending that you're still lying next to me

So why why why the sun
Has got to shine shine shine
Why don't it just stay away?
Why do dreams have to fade

Into all these shades of blue where I wait for you?
Pray love reaches through all these shades, shades of blue
When you close your eyes feel me by your side
I will wait for you in all these shades of blue
Thinking back on my mistakes I can't undo all the days that I misused
I thought that you'd always stay it's hard to face the simple truth that
That time brings no relief and time is all you need you said

Had to go and clear out your head
While you're trying to decide if you'll ever come back to me
Why why why do we have to cry cry cry
Tell me why this has to be

Why don't you give in to me
Baby all these shades of blue where I wait for you
Pray love reaches through all these shades, shades of blue
When you close your eyes feel me by your side
I will wait for you here in all these shades of blue
Here in all these shades of blue
Why did you have to leave?
Why did you have to set me free?
Why did you have to go?
And why did you have to leave?
Why did you have to set me free?
Why did you have to go?

Baby, all these shades of blue where I wait for you
Pray love reaches through all these shades, shades of blue
When you close your eyes feel me by your side
I will wait for you in all these shades of blue
Here in all these shades of blue

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>