

Hammering Out the Details

Ten Foot Pole

I find myself entrenched again
In things that just don't matter
So I throw it aside
'Cuz I'm not gonna waste my time I've spent most of my life punching the clock
Hammering out the details
I want to get up off this ride
Once again I ask myself Who am I?
What have I done that I am proud of? It's time to wake myself up
Everyday another crises I work
To avoid disaster, new deadlines
And the urgent phone calls In the end what is it worth?
Well, I'm not satisfied just hammering out the details
I want to get up off this ride
It's time to claim my life Who am I?
What have I done that I am proud of?
Who am I?
What have I done? I'll be gone before you know
I want to make a mark before
I go, it's up to me to take control

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>