

Make Up Your Mind

Mxpx

Make up your mind
'Cause no one's gonna do it for you this time
Make up your mind
Maybe you're afraid of the things you'll find
You say that nothin' really matters to you
You say that nothin' really matters to you never has
You say that nothin' really matters to you never has, never will
It's all made up in your head
The life your livin' is overrated
It's all made up in your head
There's nothin' you can do 'cause it left you stranded
You say that nothin' really matters to you
You say that nothin' really matters to you never has
You say that nothin' really matters to you never has, never will
From morning, noon and night
'Til the sun goes out of sight
No one knows what's yet to come
Or what's about to come undone?
You say that nothin' really matters to you
You say that nothin' really matters to you never has
You say that nothin' really matters to you never has, never will
You say that nothin' really matters to you
You say that nothin' really matters to you never has
You say that nothin' really matters to you never has, never will Nothin' really matters to you, never has, never will will
Nothin' really matters to you, never has, never will
