Should've Known

Mario Winans

If I had to do it all over I would've never kissed you
But at that time I just couldn't resist
Still can't believe you went and told her
How well I got to know you its crazy
Baby I wasn't ready for thisBreaking up is so hard to do babe
Sometimes your feelings co get hurt
And it seems like it wont work
And I'm sorry I did not respect you babe
Why was I under her shirt liftin' her skirt
What did I do baby?I should've known, should've known
That a man gets weak, oh baby
And I should've known, should've known
It could happen to me, oh baby
And I'm down on my knees begging pleaseFor what its worth I'll say I'm sorry
But I know you wont forgive me
So I had to put myself right in your shoes
No matter how much you love me
Girl I did you so dirty and I see
Some you win and some you loseBreaking up is so hard to do babe
Sometimes your feelings do get hurt
And it seems like it wont work babe
And I'm sorry I did not respect you babe
Why was I under her shirt liftin' her skirt
What did I do baby?I should've known, should've known
That a man gets weak, oh baby
Should've known, should've known
Should've known babe
I should've known, should've known
It could happen to meSweet lady tell me what must I do, baby
What I gotta do I made a fool out of myself
And I feel so stupid baby and I really hate it
I guess I should learned not to have taken
Time with someone else, baby
'Cause I'll end up losin' my babyI should've known, should've known
Should've known, that a man gets weak
I should've known, should've known
Should've known, oh, I should've known, baby
And I should've known, should've known
Should've known, baby

It could happen to me, oh babyAnd this is what I should've done
I should've known better I touched that stormy weather
And it hit me right back in my face, oh baby
I should known better I touched that stormy weather
And it hit me back in the face
I'm all dismay
