

Halos Of The Son

Fuel

With her there comes a hunger
Believing any minute all could break
She's looking out for something unknown
That could never be replaced
In a world consumed by madness
A world where I can barely breathe
Forsaken beauty lies again
These empty arms embrace what's come undone
A life together torn apart by halos of the son
The loss becomes the lover

The emptiness becomes my everything
I taste her in the air
Feel her everywhere
I don't know how I'll ever feel sane again
In a world consumed by madness
A world where no one hears you screams
Forsaken beauty lies again
These empty arms embrace what's come undone
A life together torn apart by halos of the son
[x4]Yeah, yeah
