Justified Man

Glenn Hughes

Oh, down by the beggar's wall, there is another land
This is the place I've come to set me free
Just like a fighting man lost in a river
I didn't notice I was blind but now I seeThey took a photograph, they heard my story
And then the jury tried and sentenced me
And now I'm sanctified, without resistance
I left my body and I'm gonna let it beNow I'm standin' on the platform at the station
I hear the engine of the train that takes me there
I ain't lookin' back until I reach my destinationNobody gonna bring me down
I'm a justified man
Nobody gonna drag my train
I'm a justified manInside the hour glass the sand keeps turnin'
Outside my window, falls the rain that washes me
Gone is my fear, need no assistance
And now I'm justified, those days are gone you seeI've been livin' in war of speculation
I stand accused but I ain't goin' anywhere
I ain't lookin' back until I reach my destinationNobody gonna bring me down
I'm a justified man
Nobody gonna drag my train
I'm a justified manNow I'm standin' on the platform at the station
I hear the engine of the train that takes me there
I ain't lookin' back until I reach my destinationNobody gonna bring me down
I'm a justified man
Nobody gonna drag my train
I'm a justified manNobody gonna bring me down
I'm a justified man
Nobody gonna drag my train
I'm a justified manOh, nobody
Nobody gonna bring me down
I'm a justified man
