

Game Over

RollerBlue

I know you, by the company you keep
Still waters may run deep
But you're showing all your colours, yes it true
I know you, when you say there's nothing wrong
You fake it all too long
But what you know of my world
Not a clue Too late, I'm not your fall back, all change, I'm happy now
Take that, there is no call back
Too right, so take a bow
Not this time, not so fast, no more living in the past
Your world's just got a little colder, it's too late now, it's game over I know you, by the company you keep
And the people that you meet
You're so easily impressed, yes it true
I know you, I can read between the lines
Can almost read your mind
Which makes it pretty clear
That we're through Too late, I'm not your fall back, all change, I'm happy now
Take that, there is no call back
Too right, so take a bow
Not this time, not so fast, no more living in the past
Your world's just got a little colder, it's too late now, it's game over
