

I Can Climb Mountains

Hell Is For Heroes

Give me some kind of hope
And give me one honest lie to promote
And try to think better days when you choke
When blood for profit gain wins your vote And you can fake smiles to make you feel
When it's time to break the deal
And I'm easy now, it's easy now
And I buy a new disease when it pays to sell the cure
And I'm easy now, it's easy now 'Cause I can climb mountains
I can spit further than you can hurl
And I can swallow failure just to learn
And I can build bridges from what you burn And you can fake smiles to make you feel
When it's time to close the deal
And I'm easy now, it's easy now
And I buy a new disease when it pays to sell the cure
And I'm easy now, it's easy now 'Cause I can run, I can hide
I can take a world of pain in a stride
And I don't need fairy tales to pretend
And I don't need heroes to depend I can heal, I can regenerate
I can give birth and I can meditate
And I can hate, I can love, I can fuck
I can see the view below from the top Smiles to make you feel
When it's time to break the deal
And I'm easy now, it's easy now
And I buy a new disease when it pays to find the cure
And with arms around it I'll take the summit
With arms around it I'm home
