Love Games

Level 42

As I watch your face I can see my life go by You mean everything to me Just can't take no moreThrow a smile my way And the pain I feel inside Turns to love for you And I'm yoursDo lovers ever need to hide The things they really feel inside I simply need you to need me Can't you seeOnce I hoped to be Your lover and your friend It just can't go on Your love games Your love gamesDo lovers ever need to hide The things they really feel inside If you won't show your heart to me Set me freeNow the time has come To show you how I feel The love I gave to you I can't give no more Even now I see The salt tears in your eyes But it can't go on Your love games Your love games Your love games Your love games Your love games
