Sundown

Son House

You know, late one evening
I went out on the outskirts of town
Oh, late one evening
I went out on the outskirts of town
You know, I choose me a seat and watch the evening sun go down
So, little girl, don't you know you done broke my heart
Oh, little girl, yeah, you done broke my heart
You know, it's so sad to say
That the best friends
They have to part
You know, I gets up soon in the morning
I be feeling so sick and bad
Oh, I wakes up soon in the morning
I be feeling so sick and bad
You know, I thinking about the good time
That I once have had
But, I say, little girl
Your little trouble is coming home some day
Hmmm. Hoo. Your little trouble is coming home someday
I say you going to be sorry
That you treated poor old me this way
You know, look like people don't like you
When you're trying to be loving and kind Ohhh. Hooo. When you trying to be loving and kind Yeah. But someday they going like you
And you be done changed your mind
You know, the blues is a worried old hard disease
Yeah, the blues, is a worried old hard disease Look like if anyone you be loving is so confound hard to please
You know, the sun is going down
Behind that old western hill
Oh, the sun a going down
Behind that old western hill
You know, I did never fracture nothing, little girl
Not against my baby's will.
