

Walking Disaster

Sum 41

I haven't been home for a while
I'm sure everything's the same
Mom and Dad both in denial
And only child to take the blame
Sorry, Mom, but I don't miss you
Father's no name you deserve
I'm just a kid with no ambitions
Wouldn't come home for the world
Never know what I've become
The king of all that's said and done
The forgotten son
This city's buried in defeat
I walk along these no-name streets
Wave goodbye to all
As I fall
At the dead-end I begin
To burn the bridge of innocence
Satisfaction guaranteed
A pillow-weight catastrophe
On a mission nowhere bound
Inhibitions underground
A shallow grave I
Have dug all by myself
And now I've been gone for so long
I can't remember who was wrong
All innocence is long gone
I pledge allegiance to a world of disbelief
Where I belong
A walking disaster
The son of all bastards
You regret you made me
It's too late to save me
(You regret you made me
It's too late to save me)
As far as I can tell
It's just voices in my head
Am I talking to myself?
'Cause I don't know what I just said
(And she said)
As far as where I fell
Maybe I'm better off dead
Am I at the end of nowhere
Is this as good as it gets?
And now I've been gone for so long
I can't remember who was wrong
Where I belong
A walking disaster
The son of all bastards

You regret you made me
It's too late to save me
(To save me, to save me, to save me) And now I've been gone for so long
I can't remember who was wrong
Where I belong A walking disaster
The son of all bastards
You regret you made me
It's too late to save me I will be home in a while
You don't have to say a word
I can't wait to see you smile
Wouldn't miss it for the world I will be home in a while
Wouldn't miss it for the world
