

Don't Wait for Me

Youth in Revolt

The sun is burning bright
And now their hundred days turn into night
The sun, it looks the same
But I can't say my feelings won't change
([?])Don't wait for me to come back home again

Don't wait for me
[?] in the end
And I hope you know is all I know
And now I have to let you go
Don't wait for me to come back home again
To come back home again

The stars are burning bright
Another month without you by my side
([?])

These faces look the same
But I'm not sure these feelings will remain
([?])Don't wait for me to come back home again
Don't wait for me
[?] in the end

And I hope you know is all I know
And now I have to let you go
Don't wait for me to come back home again
To come back home againI should've seen this happening
But now we're tired and broken
If I could turn back time
I'd [?] this

Don't wait for me to come back home again
Don't wait for me to come back home again
Don't wait for me to come back home again
Don't wait for me
[?] in the end

And I hope you know is all I know
And now I have to let you go
Don't wait for me to come back home again
To come back home again
