Low

Marianas Trench

Tear those pictures off the wall
I don't think I will need them all again
I think the problem here is
There's nothing wrong
I guess that I can coast along for now
Bit more, there's something missing
I'm missing the point I did before
I'm sorry that I'm always the one
To let you down again
And I feel so ashamed
It should have been easy
(I feel so low)
And I want you to know
That I won't let go again
(I feel so low)
You were the first to knock me down
In a way I guess we're even now
And I know I only used that first to justify
But maybe that's not just a lie, who knows
Bit more, there's something missing
I'm missing the point I did before
I'm sorry that I'm always the one
To make you feel that burn
And I feel so ashamed
This used to be easy
(I feel so low)
But I want you to know
That I won't let go again
(I feel so low)
I feel so tired, tired
You get so tired, tired
You get so tired, tired
Tired, tired
And I feel so ashamed
It should have been easy
(I feel so low)
And I want you to know
That I won't let go again
(I feel so low)

And I feel so ashamed
This used to be easy
(I feel so low)
But I want you to know
That I won't let go again
(I feel so low)
