

Rooming With Love

Goodbye Elliott

i'm standing here looking out there mixed in with, a crowd of friends and strangers, i'm so close yet still so far i can see smiles on their faces tick tick there goes another minute of your life, french kiss you steal the oxygen from his lungs,

in time I'll know what you meant when you said, this night is all we've ever had lovers dance through the night even though the partners keep on changing, i might have been more serious if I had known that you'd be different watch out your playing games again with your eyes, it's not as though you've ever made up your mind, for now your victims come and go as you please, in time you'll be the one who stands here just like me tick tick there goes another minute off your life, french kiss you steal the oxygen from his lungs,

in time I'll know what you meant when you said,
