

Lighting up the Dark (feat. Brandon Paddock)

Klaypex

She don't ever let the calm in
Blowing through like a storm
She's got the weight of diamonds to keep her warm
Staying up late beside her, no one knows, no one knows I don't wanna be another shadow, wanna call her back
I'm crawling out the river but I fall back
Im dancing with the devil trying to call her back, call back Have we really got the heart
Lighting up the dark
Lighting up the dark alone? Do the patterns in the stars tell us who we are?
Would we really wanna know? Staring at her in the mirror, she fades to grey
I wanna make the picture clearer, but I'm in the way
Wishing I could take the fear out of her eyes, of her eyes I don't wanna be another shadow, wanna call her back
I'm crawling out the river but I fall back
Im dancing with the devil trying to call her back, call back Have we really got the heart
Lighting up the dark
Lighting up the dark alone? Do the patterns in the stars tell us who we are?
Would we really wanna know? She don't ever let the calm in
Blowing through like a storm
Is she even there to call back? Have we really got the heart
Lighting up the dark
Lighting up the dark alone? Do the patterns in the stars tell us who we are?
Would we really wanna know?
