All That Matters

Colton Dixon

I've tasted hopelessness
I know what heartache is Somehow through all of it
Your love remains
I've lived through brokenness
Feeling faceless
I'm not anonymous
You know my name
Your word is
A light unto my feet
Your love is
My identity
All that matters
Is you make all things new
There's no disaster
That you cannot undo
This world will fade, and life will change
All of this is true
All that matters
Is that I matter to You
You've counted every breath
Each hair upon my head
You know exactly who I am
And will always
So I stand with confidence
On all your promises
Your love is evidence
You know my name
All that matters
Is you make all things new
There's no disaster
That you cannot undo
This world will fade, and life will change
All of this is true
All that matters
Is that I matter, yeah
All that matters is Your love will never fade
All that matters is You're for me for always
All that matters is Your love will never fade

All that matters is You're for me for always
Your word is
A light unto my feet
Your love is
My identity
All that matters
Is you make all things new
There's no disaster
That you cannot undo
This world will fade, and life will change
All of this is true
All that matters
Is that I matter to You
All that matters
All that matters is Your love will never fade
All that matters is You're for me for always
All that matters is Your love will never fade
All that matters is You're for me for always
