My Sweet Escape

Run Kid Run

This is it, confidence is all I need
This is how You're going to save me
From myself, from all that failsI see You and me and everything in between
And I know I'm wrong but You long to Fuel the fire beneath these tired bones
As I dance this road toRight back to You
A place of sweet escape I fell into
My everything will always sing Your gloryProgress, I confess is way overdue
I get caught up in the things that I've held onto
For too long I've been alone
I'm stronger ever step I takeBack to You, run back to You
A place of sweet escape I fell into
A familiar taste that You have made
Inside this refuge I can't createAll back to You
A place of sweet escape I fell into
Your glory, Your glorySing Hallelujah, I'll forever sing to lift You up
Sing Hallelujah, I'll forever sing to lift You up
You are my King, You are my King
Yes Lord, You're my King
Yes Lord, You're my King
