Chasing You

The City Drive

One time in this sordid life
I had it all but let it go
Backtrack, I need the facts of why
You're better off out on your ownWaste your time better yours than mine
Should I draw the line? Should I give my heart away?
My unlucky streak is catching up with me
You're the one that got awayOne day, you'll be back and you will say
Nobody compares to you
I countdown even though I know now
I'll always be chasing youTwo times I've looked deep inside
And my body wants to go
A soundtrack brings me back to life
A summer Sunday afterglow, afterglowWaste your time better yours than mine
Should I draw the line? Should I give my heart away?
We left it incomplete a break that wasn't clean
I can't watch it fade awayOne day, you'll be back and you will say
Nobody compares to you
I countdown even though I know now
I'll always be chasing youWhen was I strong? I can't go on Each day is longer than the one before
Don't shoot me down, don't let me drown
This is the sound of someone wanting moreWhen was I strong? I can't go on Each day, whoa, don't shoot me downOne day, you'll be back and you will say
Nobody compares to you
I countdown even though I know now
I'll always be chasing you
