

Poetic Tragedy

The Used

The cup is not half empty as pessimists say
As far as he sees nothing's left in the cup
A whole cup full of nothing for him to indulge
Since the voice of ambition has long since been shut up
A singer, a writer
He's not dreaming of now of going nowhere
He gave heed to nothing
And all that he was is just a tragedy
So he voyages in circles
Succeeds getting nowhere
And submits to the substance
First got him there, there, there, there
Then in violent frustration
He cries out to God or just no one
Is there a point to this madness
And all that he was is just a tragedy
He feels alone
His heart in his hand
He's alone
He feels alone
I feel
Then on that last day he breaks
And he stood tall
Then he yelled, then he yelled
Then in violent frustration
He cries out to God or just no one
Is there a point to this madness
And all that he was is just a tragedy
