Ghoti Hook

If I understood back then what is so easy to see now
I could have stopped myself from falling far behind
The changes I want will only come if I could turn things down
So I search my heart where I know he lies but then I turn aroundI should have walked away
I should have walked away
I should have walked awayWith each passing day I feel the way I did before
And the things that haunt me stay the same I won't let them go
I pray and ask for help but then walk down that cursed road
Where one waits with what I crave and my lusting hunger growsI should have walked away
I should have walked away
I should have walked awaySometimes I must give up things that I want so bad
But it's these things in the end that I wished I'd never hadI should have walked away
I should have walked away
I should have walked away
