Cold War

Funker Vogt

Somewhere down in mother Russia
They make plans to take the world
Thousands of veiled secrets
Hidden deep inside their roomsWith all their special agents
Trying to fool each other
Each side wants to be the smartest
In this abnormal warBut you always have to hear
Both sides of the story
It isn't just one country
Which we have to blameI can go on with these stories
Until the last one is bored
But ignorance and stupidity
Will survive forever
