

Guelah Papyrus

Phish

Aboard a craft bereft of oar, I rowed upstream to find Lenore
Abducted by a bandit or a king from some forgotten war
And mindful of his larval craze, the rhino tropic micro-gaze
Ignored it and to my amazement rode to Paris in twelve days
This is the work of the guelاه papyrus
Stranded for a moment on the ocean of Osyrus
Absorbing all she can for every member of her clan
Expanding exponentially like some recursive virus
She take me on
I never fail to ride on the redundant rail
'Cause when I know she's switched a track
There's always one to take me back
And through the bedroom door intrude
A fretful frown and spoil the mood
'Cause though I never really stand that tall
She tilt my frame, she watch me fall
This is the work of the guelاه papyrus
Stranded for a moment on the ocean of Osyrus
Absorbing all she can for every member of her clan
Expanding exponentially like some recursive virus
So maybe I could be a fly
And feed arachnid as I die
And view the ritual from within
The silken tunnel that they spin
And through the bedroom door intrude
A fretful frown and spoil the mood
'Cause though I never really stand that tall
She tilt my frame, she watch me fall
This is the work of the guelاه papyrus
Stranded for a moment on the ocean of Osyrus
Absorbing all she can for every member of her clan
This is the work of the guelاه papyrus
Stranded for a moment on the ocean of Osyrus
Absorbing all she can for every member of her clan
This is the work of the guelاه papyrus
Stranded for a moment on the ocean of Osyrus
Absorbing all she can for every member of her clan
