Without You

We Are The Fallen

Do you see me, I stand before your eyes here in pieces, let me in your mind when did love fade, why are we at war, where did we fall, where did we go wrong, have we lost it all?
Oh I let you go to feel the light outside
Oh I without you I just feel
I just feel so alive
I can define where the well ran dry I remember every tear I cried memories of lies, wasted all this time now we've lost it all
Oh I let you go to feel the light outside

Oh I without you I just feel so alive
There must be more to life
Than I just left behind
Oh I without you I just feel
I just feel so alive
I step into sunlight fueled by rage and delight There's no place for weakness Ill forget your sweet kiss
Oh I let you go to feel the light outside
Oh I without you I just feel so alive
There must be more to life
Than I just left behind
Oh I without you I just feel
I just feel so alive.
