Quarterback

Kopecky

I saw you crossing the parking lot while I was pushing a grocery cart
I thought you noticed but no I guess it's not why you cameSo I made my way up to you.
Said hello can I help you out with that you looked confused, I looked confused and thats when I crackedI told you that I was the Quarterback You said, "How about that?"It was a lie, just to get you to call me
it was a lie, just to know your name it was a lie, but I won't say I'm sorry till I know your mineYeah I know I don't look that cool Driving my grandmothers malibu but I'm persistent for days, and I got gas in the tankNow you're starting to walk away I say "hey can I take you for a date" that broke your stride, I couldn't hide the smile on my faceI told you I was a millionaire
You said, "How about that?"It was a lie, just to get you to call me
it was a lie, just to know your name
it was a lie, and I won't say I'm sorry till I know your mineBaby when you see the light
You'll be mine
You'll be mineoh baby when you
see the light
I'll be there
I'll be thereIt was a lie, just to get you to call me
it was a lie, just to know your name
it was a lie, and I won't say I'm sorry till I know your mine
