Imagination

Laura Branigan

He says that he can read my mind
The power to turn iron into gold
She says she's seen the other side
And knows the place the fire burns all nightThere is an answer to the question
So long ago down below
It's a hard real life every day
Once you have it, it never goes awayIt's in the pocket, when you're really really lucky
When your fantasy becomes reality, living inside your imagination
It's in the pocket, when you're really really lucky
When your fantasy becomes reality, living inside your imaginationYour magic of the secret door
I can take you down and show you more
It's easy, once you know the way
It's farther than the closest thing you areYou've got to walk right through that fire
It will not burn you
And the once you may love, only life
Won't make it, just burn awayIt's in the pocket, when you're really really lucky
When your fantasy becomes reality, living inside your imagination
It's in the pocket, when you're really really lucky
When your fantasy becomes reality, living inside your imaginationYou've got to walk right through that fire
It will not burn you
And the once you may love, only life
Won't make it, just burn awayImagination
Imagination
Imagination
Imagination
