

Back Where You Belong

NewSong

I heard you askin' how I'm feelin'
I guess I'll play it day by day
I'm still around now my heart is healin'
But somethin's never gonna change
Cause now I know love ain't easy to find
I let you go now I'm changing my mind
I know that it don't come easy
Took so long it's been hard to find so long
You must believe me ain't gonna let it slip away
I know I was wrong I want you back where you belong
Want you back where you belong, back where you belong I've played around now I've done some dealin'
I've found that love should be with you
And so you're gone, now my head is reelin'
Don't want to be with someone new
And so I go with a feelin' inside because
I know what I'm leavin' behind
I know that love, it don't come easy
Took so long it's been hard to find so long
You must believe me, ain't gonna let it slip away
I know I was wrong, I want you back where you belong
Want you back where you belong, back where you belong I guess in time I'd stop and think it over
Ev'rything that we've been through
This heart of mine may never find another
Who loves me just the way you do, way you do
I know that love it don't come easy
Took so long it's been hard to find so long
You must believe me ain't gonna let it slip away
I know I was wrong, I want you back where you belong
Want you back where you belong, back where you belong I know that love, it don't come easy
It took so long, it's been hard to find so long
You must believe me, ain't gonna let it slip away
I know I was wrong, I want you back where you belong
Back where you belong
